Las Cruces and the Mesilla Valley

CRUCES TOWN BOARD CONSIDERS PAVING

Meets Monday to Discuss Asphalt Coating for the Public Streets.

Las Cruces, N. M., Oct. 1.—The board of trustees of the town of Las Cruces will hold its regular monthly meeting on Monday evening, October 3. At this meeting the question of putting an asphalt dressing over the present macadamized streets will be taken up, and it is probable that the contract will be let within a short time. The macadamized streets have been a great improvement over the old sand and dirt ones, but it is evident that the action of rain, sprinkling and sweeping is rapidly wearing the surface away, and it is imperative that some action be taken before the new streets are absolutely ruined.

The petition to license traveling peddlers, shows, transient business, etc., will also be presented at this meeting, but it is thought that there will be no definite action taken until the matter of a fair and impartial ordinance to regulate such business can be looked into carefully.

LA MESA WOMAN HURT WHEN TEAM RUNS AWAY.

Las Cruces, N. M., Oct. 1.—La Mesa was the scene of a serious runaway Thursday evening. Doc Mead was driving a team hitched to a buggy, in which he was taking his mother and sister for a drive. The tongue became disengaged from the neckyoke and the team started to run. All the occupants were thrown out by the force of the shock when the tongue began plowing into the ground and Mrs. Anna L. Mead, Doc's mother, is now confined to her bed. It is thought that she is suffering more from nervous shock than from serious bodily injury. Miss Anita and Doc escaped unhurt.

El Paso School for Girls Establishes Intermediate

Will Receive Girls as Young as Nine Years—A Home and Day School of Highest Standards—The Strong Faculty.

At the urgent request of many mothers, the El Paso School for Girls has established an intermediate department, which will receive girls of nine years and over, corresponding to the fourth, fifth, and sixth grades in the public schools. Besides the regular courses usually offered in the intermediate grades in a first class school, the El Paso School for Girls offers the exceptional opportunity to begin the study of a modern language, German, at an early age in these intermediate grades, and offers also a separate special course in Physical Training and esthetic dancing, adapted to the needs of young children, with four classes per week, and appropriate games, under a thoroughly competent instructor—a graduate of the two most famous schools of physical training for women in the United States, the Sargent School and the Boston Normal School of Gymnastics, now the department of physical education and hygiene of Wellesley college.

The entries already made for the new intermediate department, the El Paso School for Girls will have about 20 pupils in attendance. The three buildings, beautifully located, which are occupied by the school have been fitted up to meet adequately the needs of the many classes and the Boarding Department is a Home School as well as day school, with special facilities to care for girls from out of the city or El Paso girls whose families may be temporarily absent from the city; the house is in charge of an experienced housemother, herself the mother of two young daughters.

The school is firmly established as an educational institution of the first class, with highest standards of scholarship; besides having special facilities in music and physical training, the school now comprises all grades from the fourth to the 12th, inclusive, with provision for even more advanced work; its exceptionally strong faculty of seven regular and four special instructors, is composed of capable, thoroughly trained, and widely experienced teachers, and the business management is in the hands of a board of directors composed of some of El Paso's leading professional and business men.

The principals, Miss Slater and Miss Tafei, will be glad to receive parents at any time at the school, 1111-1115 Terrace street, Sunset Heights, El Paso, Texas (Smelter car to top of Rio Grande street hill, one block east), or to answer mail inquiries.

JEWISH NEW YEAR TO BE OBSERVED IN EL PASO

Special Services to Be Held Monday at Temple Mt. Sinai.

On the evening of October 2 and the day of the 4th all Jewish people will observe the Rosh Hashanah, or New Year's Day of the year 5671.

Special services will be held at Temple Mt. Sinai Monday evening at 6:30 and Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. The subject of the evening sermon is "Never Satisfied, Yet Never Dissatisfied," and of the morning sermon, "Chosen for What?" Services will begin promptly at the time specified.

The meaning and purpose of this festival is not set forth explicitly in the Bible; we are left to infer them from the scriptural titles of the day, "The Memorial of Blowing of Trumpets, (Lev. xxiii 24) and the Day of Blowing the Trumpet (Numbers xxix 1) as well as from the fact that the Jewish New Year is the seventh new moon of the Hebrew calendar. In the biblical age every new moon was regarded as a solemn occasion, and the seventh, the sacred number, was especially so.

It became the day of the blowing of the trumpet—par excellence—reminding the Israelite that a new period of time begins; and that no occasion could be more appropriate for the endeavor after a new life for amendment and reconciliation with God. It was the day of memorial, when Israel felt himself held by God in merciful remembrance. But if Israel would have God mindful of him, he must be mindful of his responsibilities, to him and to man's higher nature. The symbolic act of sounding the Shophar; or ram's horn, which is performed in the synagogues in obedience to the scriptural precept is intended to bring home to the Israelite this aspect of the day's meaning.

It is a solemn occasion, though not a mournful one. It is a day of chastened memories, a day of reflecting on man's frailty of character. But beneath this somber sense of weakness, both physical and moral, there lies in the worshiper's heart the serene certitude of God's justice and mercy.

EL PASO TO HAVE NEW WINTER SPORT

Polo Club Is Organized and Teams From Other Towns Will Come Here.

Polo as a winter sport, for the Fair, and for El Paso's winter amusement, is now assured. In a letter to The Herald, Henry M. Hall, of Midland, Texas, asks for a game with the recently organized El Paso team, and says he will bring a team from Midland, and also from Fort Sam Houston, at San Antonio. The Midland team is one of the fastest in the west and has won a number of matches with other teams in the state.

C. A. Beers, who is in charge of the arrangements for the organization of the polo club, has written to Mr. Hall regarding the match, and arrangements will be made for the appearance of both the Midland and Fort Sam Houston clubs here during the Fair. A return match will then be arranged and other clubs brought here for a series of matches during the holidays.

LEECH CASE WILL BE TRIED MONDAY

Special Judge to Preside in Trial of Man Charged With Killing E. Kohlberg.

Decks have been cleared in the 34th district court for the trial Monday of John Leech, indicted on a charge of murdering E. Kohlberg on June 17, in the deceased man's El Paso street cigar store. A special venire of 150 men has been summoned, and it is expected that a jury will be qualified from that number.

P. E. Gardner and J. E. Horton, who represent Leech, Saturday morning refused to discuss the case or the defense planned.

Although it has not been definitely decided, it is probable that Patrick Henry Clark, as special judge, will preside in the Leech trial, and other murder and criminal cases scheduled for hearing during the next three weeks. Judge Harper, of the 34th district court leaves Saturday night for a three weeks' hunting trip in Mexico and the election of Judge Clark is scheduled to occur Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

On the charge of murdering E. Kohlberg, Leech was indicted by the grand jury soon after the killing and was taken to jail, where he has since been held, having been denied bond.

The state made an effort to secure a trial for Leech immediately after the killing, but Judge Harper granted a continuance.

Leech is an old railroad man, and it is understood that a number of local railroadmen are interested in his behalf.
